“Getting into character” with Becky Price.

Becky Price’s formal training was as a pianist, and she gained an honours degree in this from Cambridge. Her parents, however, were both folkies and in her final year she discovered a passion for the accordion, which has been her main instrument since then. She’s played with various ensembles, including “Hell said the Duchess” and “Boldwood”, as well as performing as a soloist. She is also a popular teacher, and was our tutor last year!

Using a selection of tunes from around the World (eg. Tango, Calypso, Musette) we will be exploring how the finer details of articulation, rhythmic emphasis & ornamentation give extra authenticity & character to different types of dance music. She will be teaching by ear but sheet music will be available.

Booking is essential as places are limited: Please telephone Roger Swaine on 01707 324413, or E-mail him on “roger.swaine1@btinternet.com” to reserve a place.
